The Bustling, Busy Bargain

thing that is a nuccess from the start must possess elements of great popularity. This is the age of competition, and as the MIS-FIT CLOTHING PARLORS, 262 Second treet, have in a short time jumped to the frent as the leaders in fine clothing at low prices, there must be some points in which we are far superior to other clothing nouses. Now let us explain these points. Merchant tailoring clothing is always of good material. The Misfit Parlors sell at the Station-House is largely on the ingood material. The Misfit Parlors sell nothing but merchant tailors' goods.

Merchant tailors' clothing is carefully made, and the bindings and trimmings are chosen with a special view to giving good service. Nothing but merchant tailors' clothing is found at the Mistit Clothing

Last, but not least, we pay the tailors less than half price for their line misfit and uncalled-for garments, and we can thus afford to sell at half price. Bargains can only be found at a place that buys at bargain rates. Nothing but

AMUSEMENTS. The hall of the Young Men's Hebrew Association was crowded Sunday evening with an intelligent audience, the occasion being the presentation of the opera entitled The Doctor of Alcantara, in which was cast the following leading amateur vocalists: G. D. Huiton as "Dr. Paracelsus," F. Y. Anderson as "Senor Balthazar," G. H. Riopelle as "Carios, his son," M. Davis as "Perez," H. Seches as "Santhazar," G. H. Riopelle as "Carios, his son," M. Davis as "Perez," H. Seches as "Santhazar," and Miss Frances Wolff as "Isabella," The opera was under the directorship of Prof. C. P. Winkler, the stage management by Mark Davis. Esch member of the cast won repeated applause during the progress of the opera, and to individualize is unnecessary, as all have appeared in public previously, excepting Miss Frances Wolff, a charming little lady, the developed a pretty represse of surprising volume of voice, considering her apparently delicate physique. Miss Wolff's task was by no means a light one, and she sustained her characteristion if soons, act and stage bearing in manner pleasing to the audience, who greeted her efforts with appreciative applautae. The dressing was elegantly appropriate, and the entire performance creditable to all participators. There were many visitors from a distance bresent, among them the following from Helsne; who came expressly to attend this entertainment; Harry Lawrene, Laby Branch, Oscar Cook, Mayor Aaron Myere, Benhard Bruen, Valley Werner, L. Burton, Mark Hirsch, Case Dameron, Mr. Swans, Henry Lawrene, Julius Bruah and Albert Levy. The other visitors were: Issae Mendell, Louisville; Jake Crone, St. Louis; Joe Newburger, Coffeeville; Silva Newburger, Colkland, Mirs.; A. S. Katisky, New York; Jake Rohlberg, Philadelphia; Charles Sickes, New York; L. Emerich, Vicksburg; Joe Samuels and J. M. Lesque, Vandalia, Ark; B. H. Ashner, Mason, Tenn.; Ike Freedman, Circinnavi; Joe Newberger and A. Kierstein, Clarksaile, Miss.; George Ritchberger, Jonestown, Miss.; and Miss Amelia Berzinsky, Vicksburg. The entertainment concluded with a hop, Arnold's Orchestra clinitating for both the opera and the dance.

The Private Secretary was presented for the first time in Memphis to a rather meager audience, but the company, which has been admirably selected for their work, played with as much spirit and dash as if every seat was occupied and there was not even standing room.

Works were built which cost Covington $500,000, but the water turned out to be so thickly impregnated with lime that it was unfit for drinking or washing, and has since been used for nothing more than street sprinkling and fire purposes. Hemingway, at Covington, sunk a deep well and struck a rich vein of sulphur water, and a firm across the river, in Cincinnati, found an equally powerful supply of mineral water. Altogether Mr. Hampton thought the best thing, money not considered, for Memphis to do, would be to get its supply from the sources of Wolf river.

The splendid building which has been in course of construction at the corner of Main and Gayoso streets for some months wast has been completed, and will soon be occupied by Messrs. Goodbar, Love & Co., one of the largest wholesale boot and shoe organizations in the Southwest. The building covers an area of 463 feet front by 150 feet deep, and is four stories high, beside the basement, which has a concrete damp-proof floor, making it equal to another story. The engine and boiler rooms are located in the rear basement, and are so arranged that steam power may be used whenever desired for manufacturing and holsting purposes. There is also located on the Gayoso street side an elevator of the Reedy hydraulic vertical cylinder pattern, fitted with automatic hatch-doors, electric bells, etc. The offices and samplersoms are models of convenience and comfort in their arrangement, and, in fact, all the appointments are first-clase and in keeping with the general character of the building.

Messrs. Goodbar, Love & Co. are to be congratulated upon having secured the finest storehouse in Memphis, or in the Sonthwest, in which to handle their business.

They have already received samples rep-They have already received samples representing large lines of boots and shoes, which are being manufactured for them under special contracts for the spring trade of 1886, and their entire stock will be received during this month and their house opened for business January 1, 1886.
